(1) Data protection law: the personal data collected from this document is required to open the account(s) or supply the products and services requested. It can be used in managing the banking relationship, assessing risk, market research and activity, and in carrying out statistical and proprietary analysis. It may, by express agreement, and as necessary for the purposes mentioned above, be sent to partners, brokers, insurers, sub-contractors and service providers, as well members of the Société Générale Group, inside or outside the European Economic Area. The necessary transfers of data take place in conditions and with specific guarantees that protect your personal data. You have the right to access, correct or delete personal data that relates to you. You may, for legitimate reasons, oppose the use of your personal information in this way. You can exercise these rights by contacting the department that collected the data. You also have a right to oppose your data being used for marketing purposes, which you can exercise now or at any later time.

(2) Special cases: see the "specific cases" appendix to the general conditions of this agreement.

(3) The Société Générale, as a paying and account holding establishment, is required to obtain proof of identity from its account holders, in particular their date and place of birth of individuals as well as their place of residence or registered office (art. 76 appendix 2 of the French general tax code (CGI - code général des impôts) and Art. 322-79 of the general regulations of the French Financial Markets Authority (AMF - Autorité des marchés financiers)). Furthermore the Société Générale is under an obligation to exercise increased vigilance with regard to money laundering and terrorist funding (R 563-1 of the French Monetary and Financial Code (CMF - Code Monétaire et Financier)).

(4) This choice is applicable to all dividend distributions that are eligible for the 40% allowance, from when notification is received by our office. NB. by opting for this withholding tax entrains you surrender the benefit of allowances and tax credits for all dividend distributions, including those for which the income tax schedule is applicable.
